REST MADE EASY

There Will Be Less Sleeplessness When Barre People Learn This.

Can't rest at night with a bad back, a lame, a weak or an aching one. Doan's Kidney Pills are for bad backs. They cure every form of kidney-ills. From common backache to diabetes. They are endorsed by Barre people.

Mrs. Frank Jones of 50 South Main street, Barre, Vt., says: "About five years ago I had such an awful pain in my back that I could hardly get around the house. If I arose quickly after stooping I had spells of dizziness and dark spots before my eyes, while at night I was almost impossible for me to sleep. I was so restless. One day when my back was so bad that I had to go around in a stooped position I was advised to get Doan's Kidney Pills at E. A. Drown's drug store. I procured a supply and commenced taking the remedy. In a few days I knew I was being benefited, for my back became stronger. I continued taking Doan's Kidney Pills until the pains in my back disappeared. I had no more of the dizziness and could sleep well at night. At times since then, when I overwork or take cold, there have been recurrences of the trouble in a mild form. I then take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to relieve me. My husband has also used this medicine with the same beneficial results. We would not be without them in the house."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMurray Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MARSHFIELD.

S. H. Packer took possession of the Beckley farm today.

Annie Mackie returned from the hospital at Burlington last week.

Harry Packer has engaged to work for his father, S. H. Packer, for the coming year.

E. H. Pitkin returned Wednesday from the K. of P. district meeting at West Topham. Mr. Pitkin is district deputy.

Oscar Benis has finished work for C. C. Bent, and has engaged for seven months with Charlie Gray of Calais. Mr. Bent has hired Edgar Hawes for the season.

G. L. Dwinell was in Burlington over Sunday. Mrs. Dwinell expected to move from the hospital to the home of Mrs. O. D. Clapp Friday, where she will remain until able to return home.

There will be no service in the M. E. church on Sunday next. The pastor, Rev. F. E. Currier, is unable to assume the duties here for a few weeks, together with the work at Cabot. The Sunday school will convene as usual at twelve o'clock.

The Molly's Falls Telephone company recently placed an instrument in the home of Abijah Benis, Ira Ormiston, too, will soon be "on the line." He had the laugh on some of the fellows the other night, who were so sure they would get him out of bed.

The Northrop brothers are home the last of this week awaiting slight repairs for their press. They have already put into bales over 700 tons of hay, and have contracted for as much more. At the present they are engaged in and about East Montpelier.

Mrs. Mary L. Hadley of Boston, Mass., has recently been engaged to preach at the Congregational church. Next Sunday the service will be in charge of Rev. W. C. Jennings of Cabot, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. The C. E. society of the church meet at 7 o'clock, and at 7:30 Mrs. Hadley will speak upon "Metal Shoes." Everyone is cordially invited to these services.

The school in the King district closed Friday, February 14, with appropriate exercises, and games were played. This district is noted for its entertainment abilities, and this being a very successful term, taught by Miss Clara Osgood of East Randolph, it is thought to be worthy of mention. The school presented the teacher with a handsome set and a post card album, with the wish that she might return the coming term.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Louisa Towne, was held from the home of her niece, Mrs. Abner Hopkins, last Wednesday noon, the Rev. F. E. Currier officiating. Music was furnished by a trio from the M. E. church, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Davis and Mrs. J. Berton Pike. The body was placed in the tomb at Cabot. Burial will be in the family lot in the Eastern cemetery in the spring. Mrs. Towne, familiarly called Aunt Louisa by all who knew her, had reached the advanced age of 87 years, having celebrated her birth by a visit in the Hopkins home of her relatives, February 17, of unusual wit and ability, taking a great interest in all about her, especially in those who lovingly cared for her, a great lover of flowers, and taking care of all the minute duties that go to make up the whole in a busy home. Mrs. Towne was the last of eleven children, and had outlived all her family, only nephews and nieces remaining to mourn her loss. Everything that loving hands could possibly do was done by Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins, and they feel keenly the loss of Aunt Louisa.

GRANITEVILLE.

JUSTICE FOR TOILERS

Evasion of Issues in President Roosevelt's Message

GOVT BY INJUNCTION

Chief Executive Ignored Loss of Jury Trials, Also Judge-made Law, and Nearly All the Other Evils of Which Labor Justly Complains.

That portion of President Roosevelt's annual message which deals with injunctions is evasive. It does not discuss the issues. The president says:

In my last message I suggested the enactment of a law in connection with the issuance of injunctions, attention having been drawn to the matter by the demand that the right of applying injunctions in labor cases should be wholly abolished. It is at least doubtful whether a law abolishing altogether the use of injunctions in such cases would stand the test of the courts, in which case of course the legislation would be ineffective. Moreover, I believe it would be wrong altogether to prohibit the use of injunctions. It is criminal to permit sympathy with criminals to weaken our heart in upholding the law, and if men seek to destroy life or property by mob violence there should be no impairment of the power of the courts to deal with them in the most summary and effective way possible. But so far as possible the abuse of the power should be provided against by some such law as I advocated last year.

In this matter of injunctions there is lodged in the hands of the just judges necessary power which is nevertheless subject to the possibility of grave abuse. It is a power that should be exercised with extreme care and should be subject to the jealous scrutiny of all men, and condemnation should be meted out as much to the judge who fails to use it boldly when necessary as to the judge who uses it wantonly or oppressively. Of course a judge strong enough to be fit for his office will explain any resort to violence or intimidation, especially by conspiracy, no matter what his opinion may be of the rights of the original quarrel. There must be no hesitation in dealing with disorder, but there must likewise be no such abuse of the injunctive power as is implied in forbidding laboring men to strike for their own betterment in peaceful and lawful ways, nor must the injunction be used merely to aid some big corporation in carrying out schemes for its own aggrandizement. It must be remembered that a preliminary injunction in a labor case, if granted without adequate proof (even when authority can be found to support the conclusions of law on which it is founded), may often settle the dispute between the parties and therefore if improperly granted may do irreparable wrong. Yet there are many judges who assume a matter of fact course of granting preliminary injunctions to be the ordinary and proper judicial disposition of such cases, and there have undoubtedly been flagrant wrongs committed by judges in connection with labor disputes even within the last few years, although I think much less often than in former years. Such judges by their unwise action immensely strengthen the hands of those who are striving entirely to do away with the power of injunction, and therefore such careless use of the injunctive process tends to threaten its very existence, for if the American people become convinced that this process is habitually abused, whether in matters affecting labor or in matters affecting corporations, it will be well nigh impossible to prevent its abolition.

This is President Roosevelt's statement of the government by injunction issue. Nowhere does he hint at the loss of jury trial and the substitution of trial by a machine rule appointee, nor does he hint at the other great evils of government by injunction. Compare his statement with that in the American Federationist, July 15, 1904, the official journal of the American Federation of Labor:

Government by injunction is that system of government which came into being with the new uses to which the injunction was put.

These new uses of the injunction have resulted, first, in the abolition of trial by jury in certain cases, which is being gradually extended as occasion requires; second, the system prevents a review of the facts by higher courts, and, third, a new legislative system is installed whereby certain acts in opposition to the rule of the few are declared unlawful by judges whom they nominate and elect. Incidentally the system abolishes indictment. Furthermore, one becomes a prisoner at a moment's notice on a charge by an attorney of the ruling few, coupled with an order by a judge. In this proceeding there are no witnesses and no appearance of the defendant or his counsel. This is neither better nor worse than Russian despotism, and it has gone so far that in Colorado men are being rounded up like so many cattle.

Union Workmen Desire Only Justice and Fair Dealing.

Representatives of the National Civic Federation have been visiting various cities lately for the purpose of showing how the conditions that surround employment in the country's mills and factories may be improved, writes Joseph R. experience of the federation's welfare department.

Anything that will assist in making the toilers' lot more congenial, providing it does not debase the toiler, is to be commended and is worthy of the support of all good men and women, including the workers themselves.

That the surroundings of employment are in many instances far from harmonious with the spirit of a Christian civilization and repugnant to human instincts is evidenced by the constant demand for more drastic factory laws - id more rigid enforcement of existing laws. The full enforcement of sanitary and life preserving regulations has not yet been attained by any state department in the country.

But the "welfare work" of the Civic Federation deals not so much with such matters as with voluntary actions upon the part of employers. "Fancy notions," one workman called the proposals of the welfare department. Librarians, reading rooms, recreation lists, bathrooms and the like are in its list of advantages which employers should extend to their work people.

It may not be their fault that the estimable ladies and gentlemen of the welfare department do not understand that under right economic conditions the working people would find all those things for themselves.

As Bill Mahon of the street car men said at the meeting in Mrs. Potter Palmer's Chicago mansion recently, "What the union workman wants is not a bathroom in his workshop, but in a home of his own."

Given the conditions to which he is justly entitled, he will have the home, with the bathroom, the books and the other good things. All he asks of his employer is a heartfelt place in which to work, an eight hour day, fair wages and an even show. No charity, if you please.

Miss Helen Varick Boswell, lecturing under the auspices of the welfare department in Washington the other evening, said:

"A living must be made for the employer and for the employees, because no welfare work is appreciated or is wanted by any employee if he himself has to pay the price. The first requisite of employment is steady work and a living wage, and the employer, having accomplished that for these working in his factory and shop, can then set about raising the standard of their working conditions and giving them an impetus for a better social life."

If the lady meant that the employee objected to "welfare work" only because he had to pay for it, she was mistaken. The American workman is willing to pay for all he gets, but he wants to do his own selecting. He objects to the employer withholding a part of what is his due and then pretending to "make good" by devoting a part of the amount withheld to establishing clubs and bathrooms.

Miss Boswell probably means all right, but she has traveled only half the road to economic justice. The union American workman knows just what he wants, and he is going the right way about to get it.
